Jay Phelps	Authority to enter into a new agreement for electric service at DMS	Electrical Contract expires Feb 2024	As current CTO I was approached about a new contract by our current electricity broker.	Electricity is needed to operate DMS	no		 Jack Smith

Update:
The latest proposal covering the period around the BOD mtg is on the Logistics shared google drive named in the folder named '2023 Electric Renewal ' which is also linked below in the 'attachm ents' section.
Key points:

- They are suggesting we contract early to lock in the best rates.
- New agreement kicks in at the end of current one.

- Rates have gone up significantly since our last contract; it looks like approximately a 60% cost increase which equates to roughly an extra $2000-$2500 per month during the highest usage month (Summer)
- We can request a reduced rate in the future if rates decline
- Leadership was made aware on Discord earlier this month and Julie (Sec) + Jason (Tres) opted to be involved and were looped in.

1. It is difficult for members that have just signed up to register for the class within the region window.

2. Occasionally too few people attend to meet the 3 person minimum, and this dissuades teachers.

Proposed solution: Create a form-modeled off of the expense form that the teacher for that week may submit to bill.com to receive honorarium for that class.

The form contents:
Teacher name /userid
Room
Date and time
Student sign in (Perhaps) tour guide sign off

Account ability:

Security camera could be checked during the time frame listed on the form And/or a tour guide present at the time would need to sign off on the form.

Allow Printmaking to negotiate with the organizers of PrintAustin to have a booth/exhibition space at the 2024 PrintExpo. <https://www.printexpo.org/>
We hope to be able to come back to the Board with details and a budget at the December meeting, and specifics of any tentative arrangements or agreements before anything is finalized. We would need help from PR and/or Digital Media to create a video for display in the booth during the Expo to promote both the Printmaking Committee and DMS as a whole.
